SUMMARY

Hello, I'm Abdul Hannan Ahmed, a front-end developer with expertise in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, along with PHP and MySQL. I hold a 1-year diploma in System Management from Aptech Computer Education. My educational background includes completion of my intermediate studies in commerce. Passionate about creating captivating web experiences, I specialize in crafting user-friendly and visually appealing interfaces. I'm an enthusiastic learner, always eager to explore new technologies and programming languages. Collaboration and problem-solving are my strengths, and I take pride in my proactive and motivated approach to development.
